The Foundry™ products are America's finest hand-split cedar shake replicas. More elegant and more durable than tree wood siding, its aesthetic shadow, design, and texture is unmatched by metal siding, aluminum siding, or other types of exterior vinyl siding. Cedar vinyl siding is chosen over wood cedar siding because of its low maintenance, lower cost and greater durability. The Foundry products are a superior exterior siding product for the design of any home / house, business, office building, barn, shed, or garage. Cedar vinyl siding is preferred over traditional cedar home siding because it adds texture, beauty and value to any house. Our decorative exterior siding offers flexibility of design not available with exterior wood siding and standard metal siding or aluminum siding. The Foundry™ cedar vinyl siding enhances the value of both your property and your neighborhood. It is an extraordinary alternative that offers individual home distinction, creativity in decorative vinyl siding colors and detail, plus the performance benefits that all residential owners appreciate: durability, weatherability, easy cleaning in various colors, and lasting freedom from the worries of rot, termites, warping, peeling and flaking and other problems that are common with cedar house siding made from tree wood.
